Franco-German Conference CEPII-CESifo-DIW-OFCE

Franco-German Conference CEPII-CESifo-DIW-OFCE

Paris, July 7th and 8th, 2016

Venue : Sciences Po - Amphithéâtre Érignac - 13, rue de l'Université 75007 Paris

Though recovery is gaining pace in the Eurozone, there are still many economic and policy related challenges stemming from both inside and outside the single currency area, namely the persistent risk of stagnation and low inflation, the high level of public debts, the need for domestic growth enhancing reforms, the migrants' crisis, a possible BREXIT and the future governance of the European Union and the Euro area.

These pressing issues, as well as their respective domestic economic situations, will be discussed by two German Economic research centers (DIW and CESifo) and two of their French counterparts (CEPII and OFCE) during a joint-conference organized in Paris with a view to improving our understanding of these matters, discussing respective proposals and deepening a crucial Franco-German dialogue.

Local Organizer : sylvie.legolvan@sciencespo.fr
